College of Marin Invites Public To Participate In Design Charettes

KENTFIELD, Calif., March 9, 2006--As part of the district modernization planning process, the College of Marin (COM) is holding two design charettes. (Charette is a term for an intense collaborative session engendering design solutions.) The charettes will be held at both the COM Kentfield and Indian Valley campuses. The first charette will be held on Friday, March 24, 2006, from 1:00 to 4:00 PM, at Fusselman Hall, Room 120, at the Kentfield Campus. The second charette will be held on Saturday, March 25, 2006, from 1:00 to 4:00 PM, at the Indian Valley Campus, in Building 12. The public is invited to attend and join College of Marin's faculty, students, and staff in the planning process.

The Kentfield Campus will be the focus of the Friday, March 24, 2006 charette and the Indian Valley Campus will be the subject of the Saturday, March 25, 2006 charette. Both events will be facilitated by architects.

In the week following these events, Steinberg Architects and Swinerton Management & Consulting, Inc. will summarize the information obtained and present it to the college and community. The results of both charettes will be presented at upcoming meeting. For more information contact Dave Kirn at 415.884.3139.
