

Test of Essential Academic Skills (TEAS)

California Community Colleges are required by Senate Bill 1309 to administer a Test of Essential Academic Skills (TEAS) to prospective nursing students. The TEAS is designed to test the foundational academic knowledge that is required for the student to understand and master nursing course work. Thus, the TEAS is a predictor of academic success in nursing school. Subjects tested are Reading, Mathematics, Science, and English and Language Usage. The total test time is 3 hours and 48 minutes not including breaks. Calculators are not allowed.

This test is administered to nursing students throughout the United States. The College of Marin uses the passing score called the Composite Minimum Cut Score that is set by the California Community College Chancellor's Office. Schools of Nursing that are not part of the California Community College system may have a different passing score.

Registration for TEAS Test

The TEAS Test at College of Marin will only be given to students selected for admission to the RN Program. Students will be notified of their eligibility by the RN Program. There will not be any makeup dates for the TEAS Test at College of Marin. Students who wish to take the TEAS Test independently may do so at other testing sites and have official transcripts sent to the College of Marin RN Program. A passing score for the TEAS test is 67. If a student presents with multiple test scores in one year only the first score will be accepted unless the student presents evidence of acceptable remediation.

Other Testing Sites

If you cannot attend the College of Marin testing date, other colleges and universities may be offering the TEAS test. Check websites for information. The student must request that an official transcript be sent to College of Marin, 835 College Avenue, Kentfield, CA 94904.
